Alabama's Ethics Law

Alabama's Ethics Law It's Your Responsibility!

- Ethics law applies to individuals
- Violations can result in criminal liability
- Not the board's responsibility or the superintendent's to monitor, interpret, or enforce

The Basics

- Can't use position for personal gain
- Can't use public resources for personal use
- Prohibits conflicts of interest
- Can't solicit or receive a thing of value because of position
- Can't be given anything to influence official action

Definitions

- Ethics Law is hard to read
- Look to definitions
- Where the content is
- Definitions really drive the rest of the law

Ethics and Schools Some practical examples

- Employee with side business conducted at school
- Employee's spouse with business (yard service, catering, marketing)
- Meals for coaches team meals v. meeting for dinner
- Personal Purchases through school (food, equipment, etc)

Ethics and Schools More practical examples

- School Equipment for personal use (computers, cameras, lawn mowers)
- Trips coordinated by employees
- T Shirts, clothing, goods, "rewards" programs, etc.
- Alabama, Auburn, UAB Tickets/Other Recreational Tickets
- Camps, After School Functions and the use of school property

Ethics and Schools The Tupperware Opinion

- 1995 opinion Assistant principal could not sell Tupperware at school
- Cannot "use his or her position as assistant principal to benefit himself/herself as a Tupperware sales person"
- May not use her position to solicit business from subordinates
- Why? Use of position for personal gain
- Can have outside employment BUT the outside employment must "in no way be related to the person's public employment not may that public employment be used to increase the economic benefits of outside employment"

Ethics and Schools The Booster Club Opinion

- 1996 opinion Coach receiving a supplement from Booster Club
- Coach could not revive a salary supplement in the form of cash or anything else of value from Booster Club or other group in additional to salary and supplements from board except as otherwise provided by law or pursuant to a lawful employment agreement regulated by Board policy
- Why? Use of position for personal gain

Ethics and Schools The Chaperone Opinion

- 2000 opinion Teacher receiving a few school trip for chaperoning
- Complimentary travel ok provided that the school system sanctions the event and designates the chaperones who will receive a free trip
- School board employees who would receive a free trip cannot solicit students to participate
- Why? Use of position for personal gain and conflict of interest

Ethics and Schools The Lesson Plan Opinion

- 1996 opinion School administrators developed educational materials on own time and wanted to sell to school boards
- It was ok to do so as long as there is no use of public time, equipment, labor or materials; the administrator did not use his position to obtain the opportunity and the development of the lessons did not interfere with his public employment
- BUT could not sell to the school system where an administrator and would supervise the teachers he would sell to.
- All work on lesson plans has to be done on his own time.

Whistle Blower Protection Retaliation

"A supervisor shall not discharge, demote, transfer, or otherwise discriminate against a public employee regarding such employee's compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment based on the employee's reporting a violation, or what he or she believes in good faith to be a violation, of this chapter or giving truthful statements or truthful testimony concerning an alleged ethics violation."

ALA. CODE §36-25-24(a)

"No public employee shall file a complaint or otherwise initiate action against a public official or other public employee without a good faith basis for believing the complaint to be true and accurate."

Ala. Code §36-25-24(c)

Balance

Interest of citizens in knowing what public VS. officials are doing

Interest of general public in having government run efficiently and without undue influence

Citizen's Burden

- Responsibility of citizen to identify the documents needed under reasonable safeguards established by the board
- Also, it is the citizen's burden and expense to copy the writings and delivery

But, remember . . .

- Open Records Act is construed broadly and in favor of disclosure
- It is the board's burden to show why disclosure is not required

 - Hospital records
 - Certain medical records

- How much of work is used compared to the whole work
 - How the use affects author's ability to market and make money from the work

53

Fair Use – Test for Schools

Generally safe if, when copies are made, copied portion is:

- 1. Brief
- 2. Spontaneous

Title VII Discrimination

 - Race
 - Color
 - Religion
 - Sex
 - National origin

Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964

- Title VII makes it illegal to discriminate in any aspect of employment
- Discriminatory practices under Title VII also include:
 - Harassment
 - Retaliation
 - Employment decisions based on stereotypes or assumptions about the abilities, traits or performances of individuals of a certain sex, race, age, religion or ethnic group
 - Denying employment opportunities to a person because of marriage to, or association with, an individual or a particular race or national origin.

No employer shall discriminate between employees on the basis of sex by paying wages to employees in such establishment at a rate less than the rate at which he pays wages to employees of the opposite sex, for equal work on jobs which require equal skill, effort, and responsibility, and which are performed under similar working conditions.

Equal Pay Act

- The EPA permits difference in wages when such difference is based upon
 - seniority system
 - merit system
 - a system which measures earnings by quantity or quality of production
 - differential based on any other factor other than sex

Equal Pay Act

• A plaintiff must show equal work on jobs requiring:

- Equal skill
- Effort
- Responsibility
- Performed under similar work conditions
- Jobs must be substantially equal, not identical
- Actual job requirements are determinative, not job titles or classifications
- Overall job forms basis of comparison, not individual segments
- Requirements of equal skill, effort, and responsibility cannot be aggregated to establish equal work

Age Discrimination

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act ("ADEA") was enacted by Congress with the express intent to prohibit arbitrary discrimination in employment and to promote employment of America's older population based on ability rather than age.

 The current law protects all employees over the age of 40 who are employed by an employer subject to the ADEA. The law generally prohibits an employer from compelling an employee to retire due to age subject to a very narrow exception.

Age Discrimination

- To establish a claim under the ADEA, a plaintiff must prove the following:
 - membership in the protected class (i.e., over the age of 40);
 - the employee was qualified or performing up to the employer's expectations, but nevertheless was either not hired or was subjected to an adverse personnel action;
 - job was given to a younger employee or a younger employee was treated more favorably; and
 - the plaintiff had the same qualifications as the younger employee.

- The ADA protects employees and prospective employees with disability from discrimination by employers based on their disabilities. All boards of education in Alabama are subject to the ADA since all boards have more than fifteen employees.
- The ADA prohibits employers from engaging in discriminatory and other unlawful practices in the hiring, managing and termination process of disabled individuals and imposes an affirmative obligation on employers, in some instances, to reasonably accommodate disabled applicants and employees.
- Employee must request the accommodation.
- To fall within the scope of the ADA, a person must have a disability and be a qualified employee or applicant. 85

"Disability" is defined as follows:

- a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities;
- a record of such impairment; or
- being regarded as having an impairment.

In addition, the employee or applicant must be capable of performing the essential job functions with reasonable accommodations if necessary.

• What are Major Life Activities?

 Major life activities are those basic activities that the average person in the general population can perform with little or no difficulty. These include caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, sitting, standing, lifting, reaching, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, working, thinking, concentrating and interacting with other people. More recently, the Supreme Court has determined that the "ability to procreate" is a major life activity.

The employer has a duty to reasonably accommodate an employee.

 The duty to accommodate is subject to exceptions and is excused when it imposes an "undue hardship on the employer."

Reasonable accommodation does not include

- hiring additional employees;
- creating a new job;
- reallocating the "essential functions" of the job;
- reallocating duties to other employees so they must work harder or longer than the impaired employee;
- allowing indefinite light duty; and
- allowing an indefinite leave of absence.

HIPPA, FERPA and Privacy

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA")

FERPA is a federal law that protects the privacy of student educational records

- FERPA defines an "educational record" as one directly related to a student and maintained by an educational agency or institution or person acting for such an agency or institution.
- The term "educational record" does not include a record that is kept in the sole possession of the person who made it, is not accessible or revealed to anyone except a temporary substitute for the record's maker.
- Educational records include records, files, documents and other materials that contain personally identifiable information concerning the student.

105

- Examples of Educational Records:
 - Date and place of birth
 - Parent(s) and/or guardian addresses and where parents can be contacted in emergencies
 - Grades, test scores, courses taken
 - Academic specialization and activities
 - Special education records
 - Disciplinary records
 - Medical and health records
 - Documentation of attendance, schools attended, courses taken, awards conferred and degrees earned
 - Personally identifiable information- information that would make it easy to identify or locate a student such as
 - Student ID numbers/codes
 - SSN
 - Picture

- FERPA allows parents to inspect and review a student's educational records upon written request.
- The parent is not entitled to access to records of other children, even if the information regarding other children is part of a document containing information concerning their own child.
- A non-custodial parent would have the same right of access as the custodial parent.
- A school system must allow the parents an opportunity to inspect their children's records within 45 days after the school receives the request.

- Generally schools must have written permission from the parent or eligible student in order to release any information from a student's education record. However, FERPA allows schools to disclose those records WITHOUT CONSENT, to the following parties or under the following conditions:
 - School Officials with legitimate educational interest;
 - A legitimate educational interest = a need to review the record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.
 - Other schools to which a student is transferring;
 - Specified officials for audit or evaluation purposes;
 - Appropriate parties in connection with financial aid to a student;

- Organizations conducting certain studies for or on behalf of the school;
- Accrediting organizations;
- To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena (Must provide parents with notice of subpoena before responding).
- Appropriate officials in cases of health and safety emergencies;
- State and local authorities, within a juvenile justice system, pursuant to a specific State law; and
- Pursuant to No Child Left Behind Act and the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2002 - Student's name, addresses, and telephone numbers to military recruiters, when requested – unless parent "opts out"
- Directory information.

- What is "Directory Information"?
 - Student's name
 - Address
 - Telephone number
 - Email address
 - Date and place of birth
 - Information typically found in school yearbooks or athletic programs (i.e., names, pictures of participants in various extra curricular activities, receipts of awards, grade level, pictures of students, height and weight of athletes)

Annually, school must notify parents of types of personally identifiable student information the district has designated to be directory information, and provide an opportunity for parent to opt-out of disclosure of some or all of their child's directory information

The regulations for FERPA require the school district to make annual notification to parents and students over the age of eighteen concerning their rights with regard to the student's educational records.

- The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's educational records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
- The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the school district to comply with the regulations under FERPA.
- Including the FERPA notice in the Code of Student Conduct or student handbook is recommended.
